Pinstack, a state-of-the-art bowling and active entertainment destination, has announced that it will open its doors to the public tomorrow.

The 50,000-square-foot venue, will feature a 28-lane bowling experience, ropes course suspended 20 feet above the gaming center, two-story laser tag, bumper cars, LED lit six-lane rock climbing walls, as well as hundreds of interactive games and simulator technology. A full-service restaurant, featuring a chef-inspired menu of modern American classics, stacked bar and craft cocktails is located within the venue.

“Pinstack is a playground for kids and all ages, with a chef-inspired restaurant and state-of-the-art entertainment,” says Mark Moore, president and CEO of Entertainment Properties Group. “We’ve designed the venue with moms and dads in mind, so that when they come to Pinstack for an afternoon or evening, they will enjoy themselves just as much as their kids, if not more.”

Outdoors, a large bar area opens up to a covered patio with fire pits, big screen TVs and ample seating. Private dining spaces are available and can hold up to 50 guests.
